DID YOU KNOW?

NOBLE ARRIVALS

For the hotel's opening, members of royal families and notable personalities stayed at the property, and their portraits are still displayed in the suites they occupied. Among them were Madame Meritxell Rossell, Lady-in-Waiting to Her Royal Highness Princess Maria-Therese of Bourbon-Parma, His Royal Highness Crown Prince Emanuele Filiberto of Savoy, Prince of Venice and the Piedmont and many more.

TAPESTRY TALE

The tapestry adorning the entrance of the Grand Ballroom is a replica of "The Hunts of King Maximilian" painting, currently exhibited in the Louvre Paris. The great-grandson of the Austrian King depicted in the tapestry graced the hotel's opening. Both tapestries were crafted by Armenian artists residing in the USA, licensed by the Louvre Paris for replication. Hand-woven, each piece demanded 100 hours of meticulous work.

MURANO ROSES

The chandelier in Blüthner Hall, crafted by the Baby Group, the official furnisher of the Opera Di Milano and Di Venice, features intricate Murano Glass roses. Renowned for their superior quality, vibrant hues, and masterful artistry, these roses add a touch of elegance to the hall.
